FINAL JUDGMENT

On May 4, 2009, the court called this case for trial. The Plaintiff, Daniele Walker, appeared in person and through her attorney and announced ready for trial. The Defendant appeared through its attorney and announced ready for trial. The court enpaneled and swore the jury, which heard the evidence and argument of counsel. The court submitted the Charge of the Court (which included questions, definitions, and instructions) to the jury. In response, the jury made findings that the court received, filed, and entered of record. The court hereby renders this judgment.

It is therefore ORDERED that the Plaintiff, Daniele Walker, shall recover from First National Collection Bureau, Inc. $49,000.00 in statutory damages (for 98 phone calls) pursuant to the Federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act, $98,000.00 in damages pursuant to the Federal Telephone Consumer Protection Act for willful and knowing violations, all court costs, pre-judgment interest at the rate of five percent (5%) per annum on the above-referenced $49,000.00 in statutory damages from June 30, 2008 (the date this suit was filed) through the date of this judgment, and post-judgment interest at the rate of five percent (5%) per annum on the total of these amounts from the date of this judgment until the judgment is paid in full.

It is further ORDERED that the Plaintiff shall be allowed such writs and processes as may be necessary in the enforcement and collection of this judgment.

All relief not expressly granted is denied. This judgment disposes of all issues and parties in this case and is final for purposes of appeal.

Signed on the 15th day of Dec, 2009.
